

NO WORD OF SHIP'S CREW IS RECEIVED

CREW OF BRITISH STEAMER KINGSLAND, SUNK OFF NANTUCKET, STILL REPORTED MISSING.

ALL SHIPPING DELAYED

Anxiety Over Recent Raid. Sends Up Insurance Rates in New York.—No Word of Further Losses.—French Liner Arrives.

Washington, Oct. 10.—The United States has refused to accept the contention of the entente allies, urging neutrals to deny the use of their harbors to all submarines, whether merchantmen or warships, Court of the Peace of the state department announced today.

Newport, R. I., Oct. 10.—The crew of the British steamship Kingsland, missing since Sunday, when its members abandoned their ship after it was sunk by a German submarine in the waters off Nantucket Shoal Lightship, have not been heard from today. Eleven torpedo boat destroyers were dispatched to the vicinity of the lightship by Rear Admiral Givens to continue the search.

Anxiety Still Prevails. New York, Oct. 10.—The day and night without further news of the U-53 has not quieted any of the anxiety in shipping circles caused by the activities of the submarine commerce raiders off the coast of the great Atlantic highway off Nantucket. If anything, the disappearance of the German U-boat and the mystery regarding her present location, increase the anxiety of the shipping world.

Trans-Atlantic liners and freight steamers approaching this port today by unusual routes, which carried them far out of the customary lane. Cargoes worth millions are at stake. The Scandinavian-American line steamer Frederica, bringing J. W. Gerard, the American ambassador to Germany, and the Anchor liner Camerona arrived here early today. The Frederica VIII came from Liverpool, and the Camerona from London, with 671 passengers. The Camerona approached the harbor with all her lights except a small one on the foremast.

Steamers Due at New York. Among the vessels due here from European ports today are the Rotterdams, from Rotterdam; the Lincolns, from Liverpool; the Agios Georgios, from Genoa; the Lancasters, from London; the Delmas, from Antwerp; the Bordeaux, from Bordeaux; and the Minnehaha, from New York.

The Atlantic Transport Line steamer Minnehaha is due to leave here today for London, with a full complement of passengers. Strathairn may leave for Brisbane, and the Black Prince, British, for Rio Janeiro.

The Cunard liner, which carries a large number of passengers, and the White Star liner Celtic, heading for New York from British ports, are not expected for several days.

Louis, Costa Rica, of the Pierce Line, which yesterday delayed the departure of the steamer Sangre de Toros, said he believed German agents in this city were keeping the movements of the vessels here.

Will Curtail Shipments. Exporters here say the preparation for the advance of the insurance rates on trans-Atlantic transportation, amounting in some instances to 500 per cent, will curtail shipments from New York to Europe.

Spain's Experience. The French liner Espagne came into port today with an exciting story of her experience Sunday night and Monday, when lifeboats first went out and all precautions taken for a raid on the ship were abandoned.

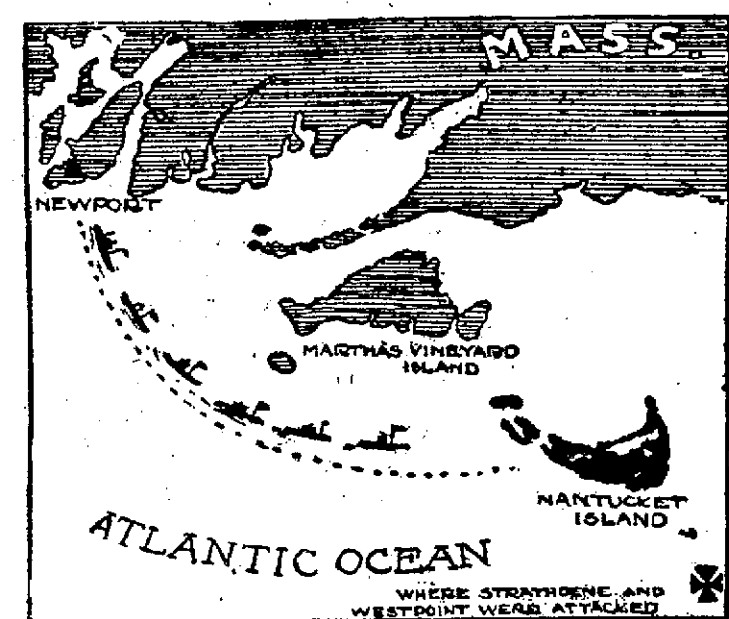

Prepared for Attack. All the lifeboats were swung clear from the boat deck and prepared for any emergency. Numbers of the lifeboats previously had been assigned to passengers, while crossing the war zone outside Bordeaux, and the number of his lifeboat and command.

Brooklyn, Oct. 10.—To turn the tide that has been carrying them away from Brooklyn's baseball championship, the Brooklyn Nationals, after two defeats at the hands of the Bostonians, made a back to the wall fight today in their first contest on the home field. A defeat for Brooklyn today would leave their championship hopes hanging by a hair.

The first excitement of the day came when the Boston Royal Rooters about the field swept the field. Scores of spectators muffled themselves in sweaters and newspapers to keep out the biting cold and bright, but it was a poor day for a ball game. The players themselves hugged the warm rooms of the clubhouse until the last moment.

UNIVERSITY MAIN HALL HAS BLAZE

FLAMES STARTING IN DOME CAUSES LOSS OF $25,000 AND THREATEN ENTIRE BUILDING.

1,500 STUDENTS SAFE

Hundreds of Students Attending Classes When Fire Broke Out Escape Without Injury.—Give Aid to Firemen.

Madison, Oct. 10.—At one o'clock this afternoon the main hall of the University of Wisconsin, which is the largest building in the state, was consumed by a fire which would not exceed $25,000. Considerable damage, however, resulted from water which was poured on the building in huge volumes, soaking every part of the structure.

Confine Blaze to Dome. It was thought at the early stage of the fire that the building would be entirely destroyed, but the work of the firemen confined the blaze to the dome and a section of the roof.

Students members of the university fire brigade to the number of two hundred, supported by the entire city department, fought the flames, which were fanned by a gale. Ten fire extinguishers were scattered throughout the building, and the contents of them were dumped on the blaze when it was in its incipient stage.

Students Aid Firemen. Upon the alarm sounded, the classes in the fire drill formation fled down the fire escapes for the most part. Others set to work removing papers and valuables. Thirty minutes after the fire was discovered the interior of the center part of the building was a seething furnace.

Governor Philipp announced he would make an amendment for a special call of the legislature, scheduled to meet on Thursday, which would place the proposal of a special appropriation for either a new building or necessary repairs before that body.

The fire apparently started in the dome. President Charles R. Van Hise said, "An alarm was sounded here in the building was manned by the force of janitors, augmented by students."

Van Hise's Statement. "We are particularly proud of the way the thousands of students in the building conducted themselves. There was no disordering of any kind, and no panicking. A panic, we had planned against such a calamity, and had routine fire drills, which worked perfectly. I cannot say the building took them to get out of the building. Last year when we tried it, we got out in two minutes. Persons who timed today gave the time at four minutes."

The damage is concerned, of course, I am unable to say at present. I hope it will not be much. We are doing everything we can do."

GUARD COMPANY IN NEW DRILL ARMORY; INCREASE NUMBERS

Second Separate Company Moves into New Armory—Has Drill Hall, Offices, and Lounging Room.

With the completion of the new armory for the Second Separate company, that organization has moved into a permanent home of its own. The new quarters are located over the Kemmerer garage on East Milwaukee street, and cover the entire second floor of the large building.

There is a main drill hall, 54x84, with an excellent floor and well-ventilated. In front of this, facing Milwaukee street, are located the company's rooms, the captain's office, a storeroom where the equipment and supplies of the company can be safely kept by the quartermaster, and a modicum of a mess hall, which will be furnished with comfortable chairs, tables, rugs, and in general, made into a lounging place for the enlisted men.

There are few militia organizations in the state that are as well provided for as is the Janesville company; many of the national guard units are forced to rent a hall for their drills. In the case of the company, a practical week. It is the company's practical possession are concerned. It is theirs from one year's end to the other, to be used for drilling, or smoking, or dancing, or what not.

Captain Jacke will soon send the requisition for the steel lockers furnished each company of the National Guard. These will afford ample space for the men to keep their uniforms at the armory. Captain Jacke has issued an order requiring all men in the company to bring their civilian clothes, bringing with them their uniforms to be tagged and left at the armory.

Since the company returned from its first camp at Camp Douglas, they have been fortunate in securing a number of new recruits, and have also gotten in touch with a considerable number of men of whose enlistment the officers now feel sure. At present the company numbers sixty-four men. With the prospects which have been lined up, the company will grow to a considerably larger number than it did when the company first returned. It is expected that the strength given to the organization by having an armory and a home of its own will be a small inducement in interesting new men in the company, to say nothing of the esprit de corps which it brings about in the ranks of the men themselves.

The rent of the hall puts the company to considerable expense; part of this is met by the state, which furnishes a certain sum to each unit of the national guard for the use of the national guard. In addition there is a sum allotted by the state for the care and maintenance of the armory, which is available for the use of each enlisted man. The company receives five dollars for the upkeep of its uniform and other expenses of that nature.

However, does not entirely pay for the expense of keeping this hall, so the efforts of the officers and men are being doubled to secure a larger enlistment in order that they may have more money coming in from the state. The company expects to make a good deal of money by subletting the hall to other organizations, and it is highly probable that there will be a good demand for the quarters.

The officers are most desirous of having the citizens of Janesville thoroughly acquainted with the work of the company, and extend a most cordial invitation to all to come to the armory on any Tuesday evening when the company holds its regular weekly drill.

WILSON VS. HUGHES IS THE QUESTION

Twilight Club to Have Most Interesting Discussion This Evening at Opening Session for Year.

With Reverend Francis Brigham of the Carroll Memorial Methodist church as leader for the evening, the Twilight club opened its winter session, with a discussion at which the problem of Wilson versus Hughes is the topic under discussion at the Y. M. C. tonight.

Dr. Deat Atkinson of Montana, will uphold the Hughes end of the discussion and John Aylward of Madison the Wilson side. According to the program, Mr. Aylward will open the discussion with a thirty minute talk, followed by Mr. Atkinson with forty minutes allotted to him and then the discussion will be open to the audience. Aylward given an opportunity to close in ten minutes if he desires.

Mr. Aylward is too well known to Janesville audiences to need an introduction, but Dr. Atkinson comes as a stranger. He is said to be a speaker of force and an ardent advocate of Judge Hughes, having taken a vacation from his regular work to devote a month to aid in the election of his choice for president. He arrived from Chicago at four o'clock. The discussion, which takes the form of a joint debate, follows the regular supper, which marks the opening of the season's activities.

Y. M. C. A. NAMES A BOYS' SECRETARY

J. Paul Richards of Janesville to Fill Position Formerly Held by H. J. Centre.

After a long and careful search for a man in whom could be trusted the responsibilities of the position of boys' secretary at the Y. M. C. A., the board of directors of that organization last night named J. Paul Richards to fill the position. The appointment of J. Paul Richards of this city to that position.

Mr. Richards is well known in Janesville as a young man of capable reputation, and is one in whom the directors of the association have confidence as they elect him to this position. He will begin his duties at once.

At the meeting of the board of directors held last evening, the appointment of J. R. Jensen as chairman of the boys' work committee was made; the resignation of W. O. Dyer, who has left Janesville permanently. This committee is an important one, and the association feels fortunate in having such a man to serve as its chairman.

The committee has been busy investigating the various applicants for the position and last night tendered its recommendation of Richards to the directors.

GOVERNMENT FINDS WHEAT CROP SHORT 500,000 BUSHELS

This Year's Production Falls Far Short of 1915 Record—Other Grains Also Yield Less.

Washington, Oct. 10.—With the price of flour higher than it has been in many years, interest in the government's October crop report, issued today, centered in the forecast of this year's wheat production, which is the smallest since 1904. The crop of wheat is 200,000,000 bushels smaller than last year, and the production of spring wheat probably will be lower by more than that quantity, and the smallest crop in the last twenty years.

With the carry-over of approximately 160,000,000 bushels from last year's record crop of 1,011,505,000 bushels, agricultural department officials believed this year's short crop would be sufficient to meet domestic requirements and leave about 100,000,000 bushels available for export to help supply the heavy demands of the warring European nations. A significant feature of the grain trade this year is the importation of wheat from Argentina, a cargo of which is now on its way to this country.

Other cereal crops also suffered from the adverse conditions of the past summer and smaller production has resulted in most crops. White potatoes particularly will be short, the crop this year being the smallest in the last five years. Tobacco, hay and rice, however, promise record crops this year.

The government's forecasts of production of the principal crops, based on a canvass made October 1 by its agents and correspondents throughout the country, together with the forecasts made by the September 1 canvass and statistics of last year's production (in thousands of bushels, i. e., 100's omitted), follow:

RESTOCK IN MUTTON AT RAILWAY EXPENSE

Four Sheep Stolen Last Night from Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul Railway Freight Train.

"Mutton, mutton, who got the mutton is the question Janesville police department members local here, Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railway officials and employees, and Milwaukee road flyers are asking and wondering this morning. As late as noon the question was still unanswered, although railroad sleuths were busy peering at footprints and trails with the aid of pocket microscopes over on Snipe.

Somebody got away with four sheep from the stock freight last night as it was pulling out for Chicago. The robbery occurred at the south end of the train. The train paused a moment here and the thieves broke a seal and opened the stock car door. Four goats were taken out. The men escaped in the darkness and all the police found were tracks after they arrived when a roundhouse employ reported the robbery.

Company detectives arrived here this morning to investigate.

HORSE THIEVES ACTIVE; BELLOIT AND LIMA VICTIMS

A fifteen year old black mare hitched to a democrat wagon which contained a sewing machine was stolen in Beloit yesterday afternoon. The horse was described as a white spot on its forehead and others on one foot. The wagon box was black with a red running gear. A rig was also reported stolen from Lima yesterday.

EGGS HAVE GONE UP 10 CENTS IN YEAR

Another One of Those Items of Which There Seems to Be No Adequate Explanation.

The price of eggs has advanced on an average of ten cents during the past year. The war may have boosted the price of eggs; it may have taken much of our wheat, and it may accounted for many items of the present high cost of living, but it is hard to believe that the placid hen has felt the effects of the horrible struggle. The recent drought of the summer may have caused the shortage of the potato crop, and may even have burned up millions and millions of beans, but again it seems hardly possible that it could have had so great an effect on the chickens that they have decreased their laying to the tune of ten cents per dozen in the retail market.

What then is the cause of this marked advance in price? This question is asked many times each day by housewives, and by the plain citizens who watch with horrified fascination the steady increase in the prices of staple foods. And to this question there seems to be no satisfactory answer. It is just another one of those apparently inexplicable things which aggravate the dealer and horrify the consumer; another item of the list that finally drew the attention of the Chicago housewives and later those in many other cities.

Possibly, mused one merchant here, "If the government ever gets any place with one of those market investigations, we may learn just where it is that these increases stem. I doubt if the housewives will be able to unravel the matter. And in the meantime, we must all stand patiently and watch our chances of eating a hearty meal grow slimmer and slimmer."

Today's markets show little variation. The vegetables are of good grade and fairly abundant. Fine fruit is shown now.

Prices Paid Producers—Tons lots: Straw, $10.00@12.00; hay, $10.00@12.00; 40@45c bushel; new ear corn, $18.20@18.50; wheat, $1.10@1.15; rye, $1.00@1.10.

Grain—Round corn and oats, $1.65 per 100 lbs.; scratch feed, $2.05@2.25.

DAIRY INDUSTRY IS STATE'S GOLD MINE DECLARES WILLIAMS

Praises Green County's Success in Dairying at Monroe's Annual Cheese Day Celebration.

Monroe, Wis., Oct. 10.—With the story of your wonderful success in cheese-making goes all over the world the knowledge of Wisconsin's pre-eminence in dairying. Other regions can boast of their great gold and silver mines, but when the dairying products of Wisconsin last year alone amounted to more than all the gold mined in every state in the Union, including Alaska, Wisconsin can well feel proud of the dairying dusts which are a veritable gold mine with veins in every county in Wisconsin, veins which show no signs of being exhausted, but on the contrary are developing richer and richer results as the years go by.

This was the keynote of the address delivered by H. Williams at the Cheese Day celebration held here to-day. Thousands gathered from all over Green and adjoining counties to pay tribute to the pre-eminence of Green county and the state of Wisconsin in the production of cheese.

Spreads Monroe's Fame.
"All over Wisconsin and throughout the nation," continued Mr. Williams, "the fame of Monroe and Green county is carried today through publicity secured by the newspapers of the county, and people everywhere who will learn and read of the Cheese Day celebration and the Cheese Day spread."

Specialization in the manufacture of cheese means attention to the best skill and brain obtainable in this work. A community like this to stand above all other sections in the raising of cheese, means that here can be found the highest excellence in this great industry. Here are the best methods; here are the latest applications of science and chemistry.

Dairying Just Development.
"For the impression that people receive in learning of your cheese day fair is the wonderful dairying resources and possibilities of the state of Wisconsin as a dairying state, its development is as yet just beginning. Green county can probably boast of an average of twenty cows per farm, and when all these dairies in Wisconsin are developed along dairying lines to the advanced stage that has been reached in this county, the world will recognize more than ever what a great successful industry dairying is in this state."

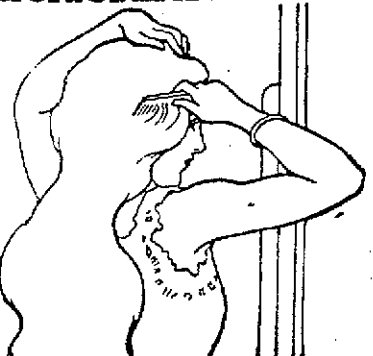

Wisconsin cannot lay too strong emphasis upon its dairying resources. It can not be too jealous of its high reputation as a dairying center. It must emphasize the importance of maintaining the dairy and food commission on the very highest plane of efficiency and ability to help still more upbuild this great industry.

The great cheese and butter production of Wisconsin has now reached the stage where the bringing of greater results to the Wisconsin dairymen, there must be, by unselfish, broad-visioned men, definite well-defined legislation by Wisconsin, giving better marketing opportunities and more co-operation in its highest and best sense along such lines.

Progress of Foreign-Born.
"The third impression that one receives out of this cheese day fair is that the history of the founders of Green county tells more eloquently of the growth and possibilities of our state and brings out the characteristics and traits of the foreign-born population who come to this great melting pot of America and contribute so much to the success and advancement of this great nation of ours. The story of these early settlers in Green county is one of the most dramatic and thrilling chapters of American history. Within the lifetime of men who are here today, this colony, down rivers and through forest, made their way without any roads whatever, traveling thousands of miles until they reached this beautiful country."

"All Wisconsin today pays high tribute to these brave and hearty pioneers, whose women built here one of the greatest colonies ever established in the United States. All Wisconsin at this time is glad to give praise to the descendants of this great republic of Switzerland in the mountains of Europe, for perpetuating here the right principles of liberty and American ideals for building here with industry, honesty and the spirit of co-operation the standards of success in cheese-making and dairying, that all Wisconsin can well emulate and follow."

ENGLAND MAKES LOANS
SO WORKING CLASSES
MAY BUILD NEW HOMES.

London, Oct. 10.—England's determination to provide the best possible housing accommodation for the soldiers on their return to civil life is reflected in plans formulated to set aside as a beginning $100,000,000 of government money as advances to local authorities and other agencies, to provide houses for the working classes at reasonable rent. Mr. Long, president of the Local Government Board, told a deputation that the plans actually before the board represented but a small beginning. He added:

"It would be a black crime to let our soldiers come back from waterlogged and horrible trenches to something little better than a pig-sty." He had told a deputation representing the Housing and Town-planning congress some time ago that the 26,000,000 pounds asked for by them should not represent even an index of what might be required. He emphasized that if the government came to the aid of the local authorities in the matter, it must be on liberal lines. He also said it was vital to the future of the race that there should be provision for as many as possible in those districts in order to keep the land occupied. The move is one of many indicating that, in the estimation of the government, nothing is to be too good for the men who helped in the war on their return. It is a harbinger of the social revolution that has been so frequently predicted and which affects all classes.

THE U-BOAT.

Raid of the submarines off the New England coast have set the world agog as to what the United States will do about the matter. Men who profess accurate knowledge of international laws assert boldly that Germany has complied with all the maritime laws and can not be held responsible, while others claiming equal knowledge, make equal assertions that it is up to President Wilson to put a stop to the whole business.

There is no question but that the problem is a difficult one and coming right now in the face of an election is more than a mere question of diplomatic rights and wrongs. There is no need for the alarmists to become worked up over the situation for after the Lusitania, the Arabic, the Gulfight and many other neutral boats have been sunk and American lives lost with impunity, it is not to be expected that even if a few more Americans are killed by this latest raid that we need be astonished.

The Mexicans have murdered hundreds of Americans in cold blood but the best we have thus far achieved is to declare on a summer camp for military men who had no chance to fight, send a punitive expedition into Mexico and still read of raids on the border or proposed raids and a winter campaign while the "watchful waiting" policy of the administration continues.

GERMANY'S NEED OF GOLD.

For some time past it has been evident that the belligerent nations, with the exception of England and Japan, have reached a limit in the amount of gold they can accumulate. This is particularly true of Germany, which, soon after the war commenced, had pretty well drained the country of the metal. The money market previously at the Reichsbank, there he held leniently whatever the economic storm that raged around it. It has been a subject of exultation to Germany's exponents that she had the advantage of England in this respect. Her isolation prevented her from creating outside debts through purchases abroad, and thus was able to conserve her gold.

On the other hand, England, controlling two-thirds of the gold production of the world, utilized this supply to liquidate the debt she was incurring abroad, paying as she went. Since the outbreak of the war England has exported close to $1,250,000,000 in gold in the past five months. The United States alone has received over $300,000,000. Germany may point to her intact gold hoard and make invidious comparisons with the allied financing, but it is England's gold mines that are helping to win the war for the allies. It is because there is practically an inexhaustible stream of gold flowing to London that England can afford to neglect for the time being, a large reserve at home. Germany's financiers and friends, however, have been living in a fool's paradise. There will come a time when the gold which she has squeezed out of circulation will not be enough even for her internal credit structure. And the time will seem to be near at hand, judging by events that have transpired within the last few weeks. Then where will Germany turn for more gold?

That something of this apprehension is in the minds of the German government may be inferred from the recent seizure of 400,000,000 marks from the vaults of the National bank of Belgium. This money was in the form of Reichsbank notes. If an examination is made of the Reichsbank statement at about the time this incident took place, the purpose of the seizure is quite apparent. The Reichsbank's return as of September 1st showed note circulation of 1,175,242,000 marks. Its gold holdings amounted on the same date to 2,469,609,000 marks. This means that the circulation was within 78,000,000 marks of the legal limit—one-third of the circulation having to be covered by cash reserve. The next report came on September 15 when the note circulation had been reduced to 6,878,628,000 marks and the gold holdings stood at 2,470,200,000, or 17,000,000 marks within the limit. On September 23 circulation had been further reduced to 6,860,000,000 marks and gold increased slightly to 2,471,625,000 marks, or 184,000,000 marks away from the legal limit.

In other words, the Reichsbank stood at 1,800,800,000 marks had been steadily increasing while gold holdings were standing still, and had reached a point where drastic measures were necessary. If new legal enactments were to be avoided, this was not desirable, after all that had been said about German financial stability, on the eve of a fifth year war. It is not surprising, therefore, that, having drained the country of practically all its gold, a large amount of Reichsbank notes lying in the Bank of Belgium should have been commandeered or that 50 per cent of all German bank notes in Belgium had to be changed for German war loan certificates.

"KEPT US OUT OF WAR."

There are a few fallacies about the democratic slogan that "Wilson kept us out of war," that are so obvious that they hardly need exposition. Mr. Wilson couldn't have kept us out of war but for the fact that—Neither side wanted us in.

Both sides decidedly and distinctly wanted us to keep out.

The American people didn't want us in.

We had no reason to get in and every reason to keep out.

It isn't two decades since an American president, a believer and trusted leader, tried desperately to "keep the country out of war." He had been elected by an overwhelming majority, not a fortuitous minority. His public would have followed him almost anywhere.

Yet even McKinley could no more save off war, when war was inevitable, than Canute could order back the tides.

It would have been just about as impossible for Mr. Wilson to get us into war, save by some monumental blunder, as it was for McKinley to keep us out.

A CENSORSHIP POSER.

Motion picture censorship might be a two-edged sword. Many good church people whose schooling has made them as wise as serpents, although it may have left them as harmless as doves, do not realize that there may be two opposing points of view regarding what they ought to think of as naughty scenes and that in objecting to these they are actually helping to censor.

For instance, cutting out scenes showing the use of liquor is an illustration. Even the liquor interests may desire it.

Recently the National Board of Review of Motion Pictures received a letter which explained why liquor scenes were being taken out of films exhibited in one important circuit of theatres. In the letter was this unconsciously illuminating paragraph:

"In addition we eliminated all of the liquor scenes for the reason that there is a wet and dry campaign on in this state, and as we believe in this state we will be more prosperous wet than dry, we are accordingly, have made a practice of eliminating all scenes that argue against the use of liquor."

Would these good-hearted persons, presumably agreeing with the teachings of the New Testament, see a new interpretation in the modified saying, "Who is with us is not against us?"

Facing this dilemma what would poor government censorship appointed to make films innocuous, perhaps by politicians with special interests to serve, do with it?

With the winter months approaching the business man who has indulged in out of doors sports and exercises during the summer should feel the need of continuing his winter recreation by systematic exercise in the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium. No better opportunity is offered anywhere than right here at home and the average citizen should not fail to avail themselves of the opportunity.

One enthusiastic Hughes follower has made the prediction that Hughes will carry even the city of New York, basing his calculations on the discontent that exists in Tammany, the great democratic organization of the New York metropolis, over the failure to divide any of the public pay during the past three years of democratic rule.

One hardly realizes that a great railroad strike threatened this country but a few weeks ago, except the men who staked their all on the issue and have apparently lost sight of the fact by the entrance of congress into the field of regulation they have lost their cherished sixteen hour law they thought so much of.

the border an opportunity to cast their ballot for both the state and national tickets at the coming election and not lose their rights as citizens, even though serving in a far off clime on the border of a hostile country.

Philipp has demonstrated that Wisconsin needed a good, clean business administration and his re-election could merely take the form of a re-endorsement of the policies of business he has installed at the state capitol in as many departments that he could control.

Now that the crops are practically all harvested the yield right here in Wisconsin has not been nearly as small as was at first anticipated. It has been a pretty prosperous year, taking it all in all, when the final count is made.

Tonight the Twilight club meets for their first gathering of the winter with the question of national politics confronting them for solution. It is a difficult question at best and the outcome will be interesting to note.

It is interesting to note the attitude of the government on the present U-boat raids and contemplate what they intend to do. Meanwhile shipping is at a standstill until the terror has been abated.

BREAD CARDS FOR BEER LATEST CONSERVATION FOR WHEAT IN GERMANY.

(By Associated Press.)
Berlin, Oct. 10.—The newest suggestion for saving grain in Germany is offered by Dr. Bonne of Klein-Heubach, who asks in a petition to the imperial chancery, that a rule be passed whereby beer may be served only on presentation of a bread card. His plan is in effect to require all Germany to choose between bread and beer as a national requirement, instead of allowing an unlimited consumption of the latter. The petition is signed by some 30,000 persons.

PROPOSES TO MARK MERIDIAN HIGHWAY THROUGH THIS CITY

Secretary MacKinnon of the Meridian Highway Association Announces Route Will Be Marked as Far as Madison.

Malcolm MacKinnon, secretary of the Meridian Highway association, with headquarters at Rockford, Ill., will be in Janesville today in the interest of the proposed Meridian Highway from the Gulf of Mexico to Lake Superior, announced that the route will be marked from Beloit to Madison by way of Janesville, Stoughton and Stoughton, within the next few weeks. The route has already been marked from Bloomington, Ill., as far as Beloit, and some marking has also been done in southern Illinois.

Use Distinctive Markings.
The markings of the Meridian Highway are distinctive as well as artistic. They consist of a band of yellow, two to three inches wide, around the telephone poles, which are used for the purpose, with a large black "M" on each side. In the country on straight highways the markings are every fifth pole, or about eight to a mile. In cities and villages the marks are placed in every block. At the corners the yellow band is 42 inches wide and there are black and white letters "M" and "L" right or left, according to the turn which should be taken.

Mr. MacKinnon, during his stay in this city, called on George S. Parker, chairman of the good roads committee of the Commercial club, and secured a letter of endorsement. The Meridian Highway association is incorporated, and its purpose of marking the best north and south route is furthered by membership fees. In time we expect to have the highway marked from the Gulf to Lake Superior," said Mr. MacKinnon. "It will be the shortest and best north and south route. It will enter Wisconsin along the Rock river valley, which is a logical path to travel into northern Wisconsin, whose lake region attracts thousands of tourists. At the present time much of this traffic is going from Illinois and other states by way of Chicago, the lake shore road and Milwaukee and then across the state. The Meridian Highway will provide a much shorter route with better roads. Now the route is neglected because tourists do not know about it. Our markings will designate it plainly."

The river road out of Beloit will be the one selected for marking. It is this highway which will be selected for a concrete pavement, providing the agitation which is now being fostered by the Janesville Commercial club and the Beloit Business Men's association is successful. With this road marked as a main highway, the entrance into Wisconsin, it will aid materially in the campaign to secure a portion of the aid from the federal government for highway construction which is to be appropriated from the U. S. treasury. The matter will be brought to the attention of the county board and Rock county's interests will be also looked after at the session of the legislature this winter.

THIEVES LOOT FARM HOME TAKING COAT, WATCH CHAIN WHILE OWNERS VISIT HERE

Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Burdick, residing near Beloit, on the River road, discovered Sunday evening, three days after they had returned from a visit in this city, that thieves had entered and robbed their home during their absence. A lady's watch with a gold hunting case, value $85; a long and heavy gold chain, property of Burdick, and an overcoat belonging to her husband had been stolen. Other jewelry, from where the watch and chain were taken, was not touched. Friday, the day the thieves came, the cellar door was found unlocked. Investigation showed that everything else was in order and no suspicion was aroused until they had need of the missing articles.

BADGER BAKERS MAY BOOST BREAD PRICE

Wisconsin Association Considers Trade Problems at Milwaukee.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
Milwaukee, Wis., Oct. 10.—Three hundred master bakers gathered here today from all parts of Wisconsin for the annual convention of the Wisconsin Association of Master Bakers.
The subject which the bakers seemed willing to talk most was, "The increased price of bread."

They declared that unless steps are taken to bring down the price of flour six cents and ten cent bread will be a permanent fixture in Wisconsin. They favored the elimination of the "flour" loaf altogether.
"We bakers cannot make any money on five cent bread. The cost of materials has jumped so much in the last decade that it's impossible for us to make nickel bread any more," said one baker. Most all indicated their belief that with conditions normal they could make a profit on "dime" bread. "But it would be a matter of price," they said. Some were of the opinion that the profit wasn't worth while.

"Some manner of relief from the increasing cost of production will be able to cover losses at which many shops are being operated," said J. T. Fischer, secretary of the association.
The exclusive sale of bread at a price of large leaves to be sold at 10c will come up for general discussion.

Professor Wahl of the Wahl Institute, Chicago, addressed the convention. He said that the price of bread was not a matter of price, but a matter of production. He said that the price of bread was not a matter of price, but a matter of production.

WOLFE IN A REPLY ON WAR SHIPMENTS

Appleton, Wis., Oct. 10.—"If the United States is committing an unequal action by sanctioning the shipping of munitions to Germany, then Germany committed an unequal act by shipping munitions to England during the Boer war," declared Wm. F. Wolfe, democratic candidate for United States senator in a speech here last night.

Wolfe bitterly accused the republican party of dishonesty in reviving the tariff and the question of war shipments. He said that the tariff was a matter of price, but a matter of production.

FOREMAN NOT INTRODUCED SO ARMY STRIKE; WIN COURT CASE

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
London, Oct. 10.—Several hundred munition workers in a London shop went on strike recently because a new foreman was not formally introduced to them. They were out for nearly two days and twenty-five men were arrested before the military tribunal for leaving work.

One of the defendants, a man named Burgess, told the court that in thirty years he had never before seen a foreman being appointed without his being introduced with the remark: Mr. Blank, this will be your foreman in future.

The manager of the works said it would be impossible to introduce a new foreman to more than 4,000 men. Burgess said they did not expect the manager to introduce the foreman without his being introduced with the remark: Mr. Blank, this will be your foreman in future.

The court agreed that it would have been much better if the manager had been introduced with the new appointment, and to the accompaniment of loud cheers, dismissed the proceedings.

AMBASSADOR FIGHTS PANAMA APPOINTMENT

American Representative Objects to Selection of Rabid Anti-American To High Office.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)
Panama, Oct. 10.—Protests by William Jennings Price, American Minister to Panama, against the appointment of Judge Demosthenes Arosemena as attorney-general of that republic have caused considerable comment here.

Mr. Price's objections to Judge Arosemena are based on the latter's alleged anti-American acts, dating back to the time when, as superior judge of the criminal court he dealt with the cases of Panama policemen who shot two unarmed American soldiers on the streets of Panama on July 4, 1912, and on two occasions in the spring of 1915. In these cases there was no doubt, to the foreign element, that the police had been shot with malice or in a degree of excitement which bordered on criminal fitness.

In the case of the Fourth of July riots, Judge Arosemena delivered an opinion in which he denounced the conduct of the American soldiers and found that only one of the score of policemen arrested was guilty of misconduct. This one had been dead about a month after the time the opinion was delivered. In subsequent cases the American Minister insisted that Arosemena be not allowed on the bench.

Further venting his alleged grievances against the Americans, Judge Arosemena last week published an article in the plume of "Leo Frank" an arraignment of the American conduct of affairs on the isthmus in which he made caustic comments on Gov. Goethals and other American officials, and the commissary stores of the Canal, which he claimed were ruining the economic independence of Panama. He has published other virulent anti-American notes over his own name.

Recently Judge Arosemena published a letter in which he disclaimed any anti-American feeling, saying that the question to him was purely a matter of personal pride. A year ago he went to the United States to study penal institutions and at the instigation of the American officials, Judge Arosemena gave him a letter of introduction, in which he spoke of him in commendatory terms. It is reported that Arosemena is using this letter to the United States, and is thought highly of him and changed his mind for personal reasons. Mr. Price denies this, and says he has no objection to Judge Arosemena, but that he is not a chief prosecuting officer.

MONROE CELEBRATES THIRD "CHEESE DAY"

Twenty Thousand Spectators at Green County City to Attend Big Carnival—Many Cheesemen Present.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
Monroe, Wis., Oct. 10.—Today was "Cheese Day" in Monroe. Cheese makers from all parts of the country flocked here to participate in the third annual cheese celebration. More than 20,000 visitors are here.

As a part of a program of entertainment for the visitors, Fred Steinman, one of the leading cheesemakers in this section, which is said to be the richest cheese producing county in the United States, gave a demonstration in cheese making. A model plant was set up and the complete operations from the receipt of the milk direct from the dairymen to the cooking and pressing of the cheese was followed out. If the cheese manufactured grades No. 1 it will be stored in one of the local cheese cellars and cut up for sandwiches later today. More than 600 pounds of choice Swiss, block and limburger cheese will be used for sandwiches.

The entire public square was closed to traffic all day and turned over to the entertainment committee, which will hold a dance. As an added feature a masked carnival will be held this evening. Three bands play continuously.

WOMAN'S PAGE

Heart and Home Problems

By Mrs. Elizabeth Thompson
Letters may be addressed to Mrs. Thompson, in care of The Gazette.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: (1) What is the meaning of "Cutey"? I mean as a girl's name.

(2) My father was born and raised until about thirty in the old country. He was born in a part of Denmark which was taken by the Germans while he was living there. My mother was born and raised in the United States. What nationality are we?

(3) A boy friend of mine is going away. Should I ask him to write?

(4) Will you please give me a recipe to make my skin white? It is very dark.

(5) Should a girl of seventeen ride with another girl and two boys? How late should they stay out riding at night?

(6) I am going to visit a friend. There is one man teacher and three ladies. Should I ask them to visit at our house?

(7) "Cutey" is a slang nickname. It is most suited to girls who are "cute." I wouldn't feel complimented if anyone called me that. It is too insipid.

(8) You children are Americans. (9) No. If he wants to correspond very badly he will ask you to write.

(10) Cucumber cream is good for blemishes. It is made by mixing two ounces of almond oil and half an ounce each of white wax and spermaceti with an ounce of cucumber juice. The latter is made by washing a cucumber and cutting it into small bits, peeling and about a teaspoonful of water is added, and the cucumber placed on the fire where it will heat slowly and simmer gently until the mass is pulpy. A few drops of lemon juice and when cold is beaten into the cream. Ten drops of flinture of benzoin improves it. More than half the failures in making creams are due to the fact that in preparing the fats used are allowed to become hot. Once this happens the chance of their congealing is small, or if they do, the quality is not apt to be good. Spermaceti and wax in fact, any such ingredients—should be softened. This includes a slight warming, but nothing more. If they are broken into small bits before being put into the mixing bowl success will be greater.

(11) A girl of seventeen should not go automobile riding with another girl and two boys unless there is a chaperone along. Ten o'clock is late enough to be out.

(12) If you wanted to have your teachers to dinner or something like that, it would be all right to ask them. You would also be all right to ask your lady teachers to come to see you, but it would not be well to ask the man.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: (1) I am a young lady of fifteen and a sophomore at high school. I am bothered somewhat with dandruff. I never noticed it until lately. I am afraid to use the advertised tonics. I have light hair and wish to keep it light as well as rid it from dandruff and not hurt it any?

(2) Is it all right to write to soldier boys in Texas?

(3) Is it all right to go to picture shows with a boy friend if you are accompanied by one five or six years older than you are?

(4) Yaseline is one of the best hair growers, and will help to get rid of dandruff. It depends upon the dryness of the scalp how often it should be applied. However, once or twice a week should be often enough. Make a part straight back from the front to the back of the head and rub yaseline in thoroughly. Be careful not to let it get on the hair itself. When you have finished that part of the scalp, take another part and continue thus until you have massaged the whole head. Yaseline will not injure the color of your hair. Probably after you have used it a few times the dandruff will disappear and you can stop using it.

(5) A girl of fifteen is rather young. Ask your mother what she thinks about it. She knows your relationship with the boys better than I do.

(6) If he is a friend of the family's it is all right. But if he is a "beast" it is not.

Household Hints

CANNING AND PRESERVING.
Uncooked Chili Sauce—Chop two cups onions and four green peppers, and chop two cups tomatoes, peeled and seeded. Mix with one cup sugar, one-half cup salt, four ounces white mustard seed, one teaspoon powdered mace, one teaspoon black pepper, one teaspoon powdered cayenne, and three pint vinegar. Mix well and put in sterilized jars. Seal and if screw-top jars are used, turn upside down over night. This delicious vegetable sauce requires no cooking at all. It is as good as a salad in winter and is fine with any meat dish at any time.

Peach Pickle—Pare peaches, and to every two pounds fruit add one pound sugar. Cover peaches with the sugar and let them stand over night. Cook them slowly until they can be pierced with a straw. Lift out peaches and to every pint of syrup add half cup vinegar and seasonings (powdered mace, cloves, allspice, cinnamon) to taste. Boil mixture until it is a rich syrup, then put it over the peaches in glass jars. Seal and keep in a cool place.

THE TABLE.
Mince Meat on Toast—This is fine for unexpected guests for Sunday evening lunch. Meat being left over, make a white sauce consisting of two tablespoons butter, one and one-half tablespoons flour, two cups warm milk, one-half teaspoon salt, pepper to taste, and one-half cup cream. Cook five minutes in white sauce. Then serve on warm toast. This will serve six to eight.

POODLES—Beat two eggs light, add four tablespoons water, knead in flour until stiff, roll thin and dry. Cut into fine strips and put away until needed. Cook in hot meat broth twenty minutes. These will serve six people. If there are any left over they may be fried in hot grease, very good.

Cabbage—Select a tender head, cut in pieces lengthwise, and remove heart; boil or steam the rest until tender. Drain thoroughly and cut in small pieces, but do not mince. Dress with white sauce and put back in skillet to keep hot till served.

Russian Dressing—A delicious salad dressing, serving six people. A fifteen-cent bottle salad dressing, eight teaspoons chili sauce, one teaspoon capers. Into salad dressing mix one teaspoon Indian relish, then a spoon of each is used. The capers should be sprinkled through it. The plain mayonnaise may be used if olive oil is added.

Grated Potato Pie—Grate a medium sized potato and put on fire with a cup of boiling water. Beat the yolks of two fresh eggs with one-half cup sugar. Add the potato and grated rind of one large lemon, then one and one-half teaspoons of cornstarch dissolved in a little water. Add a little salt and one teaspoon butter. Bake a crust and fill, using the whites of the two eggs (beaten stiff) for top of pie. Sprinkle with pulverized sugar, set in oven to brown.

Oysters—Wash oysters by placing in a colander and holding under cold water faucet, on pour cold water over them. Drain, add one egg, salt, pepper and salt, then in cracker crumbs; fry in butter till brown.

Sweet Potato Croquettes—Into two cups boiled and mashed sweet potatoes beat a tablespoonful of butter, stir in a saucepan over fire until smoking hot. Remove and add one tablespoon cream and salt, then in cracker crumbs; fry in butter till brown.

Stuffed Peppers for six persons)—Take six green peppers; wash them and cut stems from tops. Carefully remove seeds with a small spoon. Take one cup finely chopped cooked ham and mix with same quantity of bread crumbs. Add two tablespoons chopped parsley, one small onion chopped very fine; mix well into half cup stewed tomatoes, place in baking pan (steam side up), and bake in moderate oven for one hour. When done, remove carefully to prevent breaking, and serve with a brown or tomato sauce.

Training a Husband

The Elder Mrs. Southy Gives Her Son a First Lesson Concerning the Art of Being Thoughtful.

"What a pleasant room!" exclaimed Mother Southy as her daughter-in-law ushered her into the guest chamber.

"I am so proud to have a guest chamber," said Mrs. Southy. "Baby and never have had anything but a lavatory in a living room before when you have visited us. It is so enjoyable to spread out in a big house after having lived for years in a crowded little flat."

"I should think you would like this place very much or are you wedded to city life?"

"Oh, no indeed. I like this town. The people are cordial and delightful. I hope we can stay here for years."

Marian suppressed a little sigh when she thought of the frequent moves they had made since their marriage.

"Now have you everything you need to make you comfortable?" asked Marian, as she kissed the old lady good-night. "It is late and you needn't get up to breakfast if you don't feel like it. Just sleep as long as you can."

"I'll be down for breakfast all right," was the cheery answer.

When Mother Southy entered the dining room in the morning Morris was sitting at the table with the children, but Marian was lying around like a waitress.

"Excuse my not waiting for you, mother, but we were not sure you were coming down and I am in a great hurry as usual this morning."

Morris did not rise to greet his mother.

"I'll wait and eat with Marian," was the response. "She doesn't seem to be in on this deal."

"If you wait for her you will be likely never to get anything to eat. I don't believe she has eaten a meal without hopping up a dozen times since we were married."

When Morris was in an amiable mood he took particular delight in slurring his wife. "She will eat this morning," announced the old lady quietly.

"We will wait till he is gone and then there will be no one to wait on."

"Oh, yes there will. Baby and Florence do not go to school. They can think of something to make you not for, and the boys do not go for an hour yet."

"I'll take another cup of coffee," he passed his cup.

"I am afraid the coffee is cold. It will not take a minute to heat it."

Marian started for the kitchen. Mother Southy put her hand on the coffee pot.

"That is plenty hot enough. You pamper him too much. No wonder you never get a chance to eat your meals." She filled his cup and passed it back. Morris sipped it gingerly.

"It isn't very hot," he remarked. No one paid any attention to his observation and he drank the draught uncomplainingly.

"Mother, please give me a drink of water from the table, so how could you have forgotten?"

"Sit down, Marian," Mrs. Southy placed a detaining hand on Marian's arm. Morris is through with his breakfast and he can get the water and I will begin our meal before everything is cold."

Morris looked up in surprise, but he got the water. His mother was a guest.

After Morris had gone Marian made fresh toast and heated the coffee and the women sat down together.

Once or twice the boys came in to ask for something, but the grandmother sent them out, saying, "You mother is going to have one meal undisturbed. Unless the house catches afire do not interrupt her."

When they were alone she said, "You are making a great mistake in allowing everything under the sun to interfere with your meals. You will break down if you don't stop it."

"I know it is bad for the system, and I have tried several times to change this haphazard way of eating, but I always fall back into the old ways again."

Marian smiled and said, "I will have to help you, my dear. The old lady, patting her hand. (To be continued.)"

GERMANY WOULD OUST WOMEN FROM POSITIONS WHEN WAR IS CLOSED.

Hanover, Germany, Oct. 10.—The Hanover Mercantile Association has entered into an agreement with a number of other business organizations in Hanover, whereby a strenuous effort will be made to oust women from the positions they now occupy, after the war, and to replace them with the men who are now in the field.

According to the contract which has been drawn up between the various organizations, no position ordinarily held by a man may be offered to a woman at all. This applies to positions in trade, in stores and counting rooms. Women may not even be informed that positions are open.

The associations have also agreed that positions paying below a certain standard shall not be advertised either to men or to women.

City of Hanover has fixed a new wage scale whereby the minimum wage scale for employees under 18 years of age shall be 900 marks, 1,080 for employees between 18 and 20 and 1,200 marks for all employees over 20.

How we wish that we were able to come forward and explain in a language you could understand. In thoughts made clear and plain, just the reason why a bunch of guys, who seem to us no good, stick around and soak up oxygen, while we all think we could get along as well without them, even would welcome their demise, like to see them crank their wagon for their shanty in the skies; while another bunch of useful, much respected people, go, leave the earth when badly needed on the job down here below. Sad indeed are many pictures, you and I could call to mind, mother—lots who need a mother's leaving little tots behind, who will never know another that can fill the vacant chair, tots who call in vain for mother—lots who need a mother's care. No, we surely can't explain it, though we try our level best, God must know—we don't pretend to, why she's called to final rest; we sincerely hope she's with them in her future spirit state, for with them she is in heaven, with her babies rests her *Leina H. LAKES-GULF ROUTE BUILT BY CONVICTS SUGGESTED AT MEET

Would Use Free Men, Jailbirds and Unemployed to Build Water-Way—Prison Body Speaker.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Buffalo, N. Y., Oct. 10.—Plans for a highway from the Great Lakes to the Gulf, to be built by convict labor and by free men, otherwise unemployed, were outlined to the American Prison Association here today by Miss Lillian Stuart, of St. Louis.

The plan contemplates that philanthropic persons shall advance money with which to buy the highway, and that the workers who actually build it shall share in the profits to be derived from its operation. At the conclusion of her address, Miss Stuart asked the Prison Association to subscribe $200 to the work.

In her address today, Miss Stuart said: "There are two million miles of unimproved highways in the United States. In the 'Arcadian Highway' it is planned to build the first thousand miles of the 50,000 mile system proposed by the National Highways Association.

"Men commit crime because they are forced to work at what they neither understand nor love. Given the work they love—the work they do best—they never commit crime."

As a step toward solving the problem of unemployment, poverty and crime, I propose the construction of the Arcadian Highway.

"The Arcadian Highway" is a plan to grubstake unemployed men to build a road a parkway 1,000 miles long and one quarter mile wide—from the Great Lakes to the Gulf of Mexico by way of St. Louis. It would be a free model highway with centerway for auto speedway and side roads for local traffic—straight for 100-mile stretches.

Over this smooth paved roadbed flow such river of life as will be seen nowhere else in the world: green-arched, shade-flecked, the open way with human life. It would be a great national model farm 1,000 miles long and 80 rods wide, to propagate all the useful and curious animals and plants indigenous to the variety of climate and soil along the route. "After the unemployed are given a chance, I favor convict labor on the same terms as free labor in building Arcadian Highways."

"A convict trained in the habits of honest industry, with a 'bluck' accumulated at the end of his term, would be more likely to stick with honest industry than go back to a life of crime."

While nothing can be more appetizing than a luscious berry short cake it brings two visions of a hot oven and a hot kitchen. When you wash a fine varnished surface you take a big risk. Some varnishes will go to pieces under such treatment. Another danger is the use of so-called polishes which impart a high gloss for the time being but which in time dry, crack and crack the fine surface.

Best results are obtained by the use of Tobeys Polish—made from the secret formula of The Tobeys Furniture Company (Union, N. Y. and New York), used by them for cleaning and preserving finishes of varnish and enamel. The fact that a big furniture house uses Tobeys Polish on its finest pieces is certainly full assurance of its safety and efficiency when used on the furniture and woodwork in your home.

Tobeys Polish restores the life and beauty of fine furniture and woodwork by cleaning the surface and by keeping the natural finish in all its original newness.
